

Hello Dancers and Families,

The studio is sparkling clean, the recital finale is being choreographed and your teachers are eagerly awaiting your return.

Exercise is a key component to feeling good. Please take an hour each day do simple exercises, review your recital dances, practice pirouettes and leaps if you have the space. Pretend you are the teacher and hold a class of your own.

The studio is initiating “ I Hope You Dance Day” on Friday March 27th. Pull out your old costumes and put together your own show. Teach mom and dad how to hip hop. Then post your pictures and videos on instagram@thedancecompanyil.

A Note To The Parents:

If you are on auto pay, not to worry, we will not charge your cards until we are open and teaching full time. In addition, prior to charging April tuition we will notify you in advance the amount of weeks you will be charged for.

Please mail your ticket and dvd orders as instructed (April 1st). We will not cash checks or process credit cards until it is 100% confirmed that our recital will happen as planned. The recital is later in the year than usual, I feel confident we will be able to proceed on June 7th. In the event that the recital cannot take place, tickets will not be issued and all payment information will be shredded.

Concerning Bravo, our cancelled competition, I expect to hear from them soon about our refund. I will relay that info as it comes in.

Lastly, take care of yourself and your loved ones. Stay safe. Stay healthy. Be patient and kind. There is no better time to stand together, to help each other through this storm and come out on the other side stronger.

The studio is still missing many emails. Please pass this on to your dancing families.

Thank You,

The Dance Company
